All Students Association Sells Guy Lombardo Concert Tickets

BY BILL ANDERSON

Have you purchased your tickets yet for the Guy Lombardo Concert that is coming to the University of Tennessee Martin Branch?

The concert is scheduled for Sunday afternoon Oct. 27, between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m. in the new Physical Education Building under the sponsorship of the Martin Rotary Club.

The All Students Association is sponsoring ticket sales on the UTMB campus, and ASA will receive 50 cents for each ticket sold, according to David Stroud, ASA president. Reserved seat tickets are $3 and general admission tickets are $2.50.

This concert offers a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to UTMB students to hear this world famous group of Royal Canadians, one of the truly great big name bands, belonging to an era which has all but slipped away.

Known for the "Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven" the band was a stellar attraction across the length and breadth of the United States, as well as around the rest of the world, in the 30's.

Lombardo and his three brothers are truly representative of the "big name band" which we UTMB students have clamored for in the past couple of years. We have talked, re-

Campus Retreat Set For Tonight

The All Students Association will hold its first on campus retreat of the school year tonight, Tuesday, Oct. 15, at 7 p.m. in Room 112 of the administration building.

Presidents, sponsors, and ASA representatives from all organizations, are asked to be present to plan for activities to be held in the future by their organization.

The main purpose of this retreat is to give all clubs and organizations the opportunity to petition for dates for their social functions. The dates of the social activities will be set up in order to evenly distribute the entertainment provided on the campus during fall quarter.

Reports on ticket sales for the Guy Lombardo concert will be heard at the Retreat. ASA will provide additional tickets as needed so that all students will have the opportunity to buy their tickets in advance.

quested, and pledged support to "something with a big name" if we ever were lucky enough to get that something here.

Well, it's here now, and this is our opportunity to stick by what we have said. It is a rare treat to have one of the all time greats appearing on our campus, and in addition this performance can be the start of first rate entertainment on the campus. It is up to us and how well we as students respond to this effort by the Rotary Club to bring true "big time" entertainment to this area.

Ground Broken For Stadium In Ceremonies Saturday

Groundbreaking for the new football stadium took place at halftime of the Homecoming football game last Saturday. A total of $145,000 in cash and pledges has been acquired for the new stadium.

Dr. And Mrs. Meek Win Outstanding Service Awards

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Meek were honored at the annual Alumni Association luncheon held Saturday, Homecoming Day.

They were presented the Alumni Outstanding Service Award in recognition of their years of service to The University of Tennessee Martin Branch.

The award is made annually to a deserving person, but in this case it was decided that both Dr. and Mrs. Meek should be honored equally.

Dr. Meek was also presented an engraved shovel to use in the ground breaking ceremonies at half-time of the ball game.

In other alumni activities at the luncheon special guests, including the UTMB Homecoming royalty, were recognized; past presidents of the UTMB Alumni Association were introduced and certain classes were recognized;

From the class of '28 eight were present at the luncheon. There were five members of the classes '33 and '48 here for Homecoming, and four members of the class of '38.

The class of 1953 which held its first 10 year reunion was represented by eight of the 16 people in the class.

Billy Stafford, president of the UTMB Alumni Association, presided over the luncheon which was attended by approximately 250 people. Bob Wylie is the president-elect.

In other alumni activities of the day an informal get-together was held before the Homecoming parade began; the alumni executive committee met; a coffee was held after the game, and the class of '53 had a dutch dinner at the Gateway Restaurant.

Duke Drumm, manager of radio station WCMT, County Judge Cayce Pentecost, and Mayor Doug Murphy had the honor of breaking the ground.

The new stadium, to be built on the west side of the present playing field, will have a seating capacity for 5061 people. It will be 313 feet long and 70 feet wide. It will also have a center entrance for the two teams with a dressing room for each team, accommodating approximately 60 men each.

The stadium will also house rest rooms, two concession stands, and a press box. With the aid and planning of the Weakley County Municipal Corporation, there will be modern lighting on both sides of the field.

Martin High School will also utilize the facilities of the new stadium. They are as interested as UTMB is in getting it built, according to Vice President Paul Meek.

Bids have been advertised for and are expected to be received on or before Oct. 31 in the Vice-President's office.

The contractor will begin at his earliest convenience. The stadium will be finished by early spring if the winter is not too severe.

Dedication of the football stadium will be held at the first home game of the 1964 season. Dr. Andrew D. Holt, president of the University of Tennessee, will be here for the dedication.

There has been some discussion about a new practice field and adequate parking area just west of the new stadium. The new parking area which will be very convenient, will be the next project for the future.

Homecoming Day Termed Success With Vol Victory

Martha Lee Woods, newly elected football queen, reigned over Homecoming activities Saturday.

Assisting her were Sandra Westbrook, first maid, and Annette Grissom and Lucy Lowry, alternates. These girls were presented for the first time at the bon-fire and pep rally Thursday.

Another outstanding pre-game activity was the Homecoming Parade. Reward came as Chi Omega, for the fourth successive year, won first place in the car division of the Homecoming Parade. The Liberal Arts Club received second place while third place went to the Junior Class.

Pi Kappa Alpha won the first place trophy in the float division. Alpha Gamma Rho received second place and the Engineering Club, third place.

The annual alumni luncheon was held at noon at the National Guard Armory. Approximately 250 alumni and guests attended the luncheon meeting. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Meek were presented the Outstanding Service Award.

Homecoming was definitely termed "a success" as the Vols defeated Livingston State 9 to 7.

Ground-breaking for the new stadium took place at half-time and marked another milestone in UTMB progress.

A semi-formal homecoming dance, sponsored by the Ag Club, brought to a close the homecoming activities. An estimated 150 couples were on hand to hear The Counts from Memphis.

Old Posters Litter!

Homecoming is over; campus elections are over; rush parties are over; church night parties are over --- but their publicity is not.

Campaign posters, homecoming and rush announcements, and other material advertising events that are past are still up all over campus.

Not only are these passe items covering the bulletin boards, but they are taped to the walls of every building on campus and even stuck on the trees.

Granted that announcements and publicity for things to come are important. This is one way of keeping an informed student body. But why doesn't somebody, to be more specific, the one who put the posters up - take them down when they are out of date.

There is not an over abundance of bulletin boards on campus and when these are filled, students automatically turn to the walls which is probably not a good idea, but at the rate we're going, soon the walls will be full too.

This leads to confusion. When you look up and are confronted with a dozen signs you don't really pay attention to any of them, and thereby might miss something important.

Also left-over posters everywhere really detract from the appearance of the campus. We have beautiful new buildings and our campus is one of the most attractive in the state. We should be proud of it and try our best to keep it this way.

University administrators are not especially pleased by the leftovers either, and if we don't reform, official measures may be taken to remedy the situation.

Actually this would be unnecessary if students would simply cooperate by being sure that the signs for which they were responsible were removed reasonably soon after an event is past.

Remember - The poster you put up should be the poster you take down.

Keep Tennessee Green

What's so bad about wearing beanies? Well, according to freshmen this is a fate worse than death.

In the news columns of THE VOLETTE is a feature story on this topic written by an upperclassman. We agree with what she has said and would like to take this topic a little farther.

It is not actually that we upperclassmen think the beanies look especially good; nor do we simply want to fuss at freshmen for not having them on, or worse, not wearing them square, but it is simply the fact that a freshman in a green beanie signifies to us that he has the right attitude and outlook on life at UTMB.

If he's willing to accept this small "punishment," as a lot of fun, which it really is, this means that he is able to look at the brighter side of things, and this will be an advantage to him throughout life.

Wearing the beanie most of all signifies that he already has a little of the traditional "Tennessee Spirit" which is so much a part of UTMB.

From some conversations we have overheard, many of the freshmen actually want to wear their beanies to show that they are really a part of our university and that they're proud to be carrying on traditions which will be passed on from them to others.

Congratulations to these freshmen for their enthusiasm and pride in UTMB and its traditions.

George Shankle Edits Volunteer

George Shankle is serving as editor of THE VOLUNTEER, The University of Tennessee Martin Branch yearbook, for the 1963-64 school year.

Other executive staff members are:

Betty Weems, assistant editor; Barbara Peeples, Greek and dormitory editor; Margaret Simrell, index editor, and Tommy Edwards, business manager.

Mrs. Mildred Payne is faculty adviser to THE VOLUNTEER.

George, Tommy and Mrs. Payne attended a yearbook clinic at Camden, Arkansas, before school started.

Work is already underway on the 1963-64 edition, and it promises to be the best ever, according to Editor Shankle.

What Time Is It, You Say? Final Enrollment Frosh Green Beanie Time! Figure Hits 1467

BY JUDY HOLLAMON

If you were to ask each person on this campus the question, "What time is it?" you would get as many different answers as the number of people you asked.

Each answer would probably be correct, but at the present time, there is only one answer to this question. It's "Freshman Green Beanie Time!"

We, as upperclassmen, can remember what we went through during freshman initiation either on this campus or another one, and I think it is something that will long be remembered by each of us.

This is why I can't understand many of the comments we hear in the dorm from the freshman girls. "I just can't wear this horrible thing," and "I can't think of anything any worse than having to wear this beanie!" Why, we had to wear our Sunday dresses, high heels and our beanies with our hair rolled up. Almost as bad as this was carrying candy for the upperclassmen and green toilet paper to wipe the smiles from our faces --- and they think they have it bad!!

The worst part is that somewhere along the line these freshmen have gotten the idea that the only reason they are asked to wear their beanies is so the upperclassmen will have an excuse to fuss at them and for a few days we will really have a reason to look down our noses at them.

I will admit that this is one of the better reasons why the freshmen should and do wear their beanies, but there are other reasons also.

The wearing of the beanie gives the freshman an opportunity to know other freshmen from upperclassmen - so they can join forces against the upperclassmen! This beanie also tells the upperclassmen who the freshmen are so they can meet them and help them to become a part of UTMB, just as we feel we are.

We are proud because we are known for having a friendly campus. If we are to keep it this way as we continue to grow, then we must pass on to each freshman class this friendly atmosphere.

Tell me! What better way can we have of knowing who these freshmen are each year, than to have them wear their beanies?

ASA Is Organizing Motorcade To Murray

A motorcade to the Murray State ball game this coming Saturday night, Oct. 19, is being sponsored by the All Students Association.

The cavalcade of cars will form at the Old Gym at 6 p.m. and will leave Martin at 6:15.

ASA would like to have as many as 200 cars join in the parade to Murray.

Enrollment at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch continued its upward trend this fall quarter with a final enrollment figure of 1,467 students registered in all departments.

This total does not include approximately 125 enrolled in the U-T Martin Branch Extension Division. The 1,467 figure compares with 1,363 in the fall of 1962.

The freshman class led all others with a total enrollment of 636. This compares with 605 enrolled last year. Other class enrollments are as follows: sophomores, 466; juniors, 190; seniors, 151. A total of 24 students are enrolled under special classifications.

Enrollment by departments is: Education, 482; Business Administration, 233 Engineering, 231; Liberal Arts, 228; Agriculture, 168; Home Economics, 125.

Men and women enrolled are 923 and 544, respectively, for ratio for slightly less than two to one.

Stray Dog Wins Sympathy And New Chance To Live

BY ERNIE MCCALL

Is a cat the only animal that has nine lives? I challenge you to observe closely some of your canine friends before making your decision.

A stray dog supposedly won the sympathy of a group of Martin youngsters this summer when he wandered sickly into the neighborhood displaying a bullet wound. An alarmed mother heard the disturbance, investigated the incident, and called a local veterinarian.

The vet came quickly to the scene of the incident and immediately decided that it was useless to try to save the dog. He advised the upset woman to have the animal shot in attempt to get him out of his pain.

The woman telephoned the police asking them to destroy the suffering animal. An involved party stated that the police came to the neighborhood and shot the dog four times. Making sure the dog was dead, the police confidently left considering the duty done.

The same alarmed woman was somewhat shaken when she found the enduring canine walking around that next morning. She promptly called the veterinarian again, and he rushed to the home. He calmed the bewildered woman, and gave the dog a shot that could certainly put him out of his misery.

Well, word has it that on the next day, the noble dog was playfully chasing ducklings that lived next door. The touched family decided to adopt this amazing creature. It was recently reported that they now have a healthy and vigorous pet.

I'm not suggesting that all dogs have six lives plus one to live on; I'm just reporting a true story that happened in our locale.

LSC Tigers Refuse To Play Dead In Vol 9-7 Victory

BY DAVID DUNCAN

Homecoming festivities at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch were climaxed Saturday afternoon with a 9-7 victory over a stubborn Tiger squad from Livingston State.

A first quarter safety proved to be the margin needed for the Volunteers to avenge the 15-12 defeat at Livingston last year. The Tigers scored in the second quarter, but UTMB came back after the half to take their fifth win against one loss in the LSC-UTMB series.

Early in the first quarter a long punt covering 45 yards executed by senior fullback Gene Brodie set the opponents on their own 5 yard line. Three plays later an attempt to kick out was blocked by Frank Scutari, 230 pound tackle, and the ball fell into the end zone. A scramble for the ball followed and LSC came out on top preventing a Vol touchdown but giving them the fatal 2 point safety.

In the second quarter, another Brodie punt resulted in a score, but this time in reverse order. The ball went high and straight up into the air, and Jimi Kontrulis LSC end, caught it. He raced 25 yards for the Tigers' only score of the game. Bobby Moore kicked the extra point.

Soon after the half, UTMB began a drive on the 20 yard line. Marching downfield through several pass completions, the Vols covered the 80 yards in seven plays. The score came on a 10-yard pass from Billy Watson, senior quarterback, to Tom Pickens, 186-pound halfback. Jerry Gage, sophomore halfback, kicked the

UTMB Instructor To Fill Office

Miss Mary Elizabeth Grabel, was named president-elect, the west Tennessee Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at a meeting held recently in Memphis.

Miss Grabel is Physical Education instructor at UTMB.

Melvin Humphreys, a UTMB alumnus now on the Memphis State faculty, was elected president for the following year.

Nine UTMB representatives attended the meeting held at Memphis State University.

Union University presented the program at the morning session for the students. At the afternoon session there was a panel discussion by prominent West Tennessee coaches. Dance and trampoline demonstrations were presented by Covington High School students.

Attending the meeting were Miss Grabel, Miss Nadine Gearin, Janice Leggett, Vonda Poole, Judy Grabel Gaddy, Norman Gher, Johnny Williams, Leon Phillips and Jerry Rawls.

extra point to end the game's scoring; however, the Tigers put together two more threats. Running of downs on UTMB's 30 and 16 yard lines, two field goal attempts failed in the final quarter.

Though the scoring was considerably close, the Vole downed the Tigers in every statistical department: 130 to 51 yards rushing, 98 to 88 yards passing, 55 to 27 rushing plays, and 14 to 8 first downs. The difference proved to be in penalties. The Vols were hindered by 11 violations totaling 135 yards to LSC's 55. The game was almost identical to last year's game in which the Vols were penalized 145 yards.

Next week the Vols travel to Murray, Ky., to tangle with OVC power Murray State.

Cheerleaders' Clinic Draws Huge Turn-Out

A record number of 551 attended the sixth annual Cheerleader Clinic held at the University of Tennessee Martin Branch, October 7.

A total of 71 schools from West Tennessee, Western Kentucky, and Southeast Missouri sent representatives.

There was a total of 480 cheerleaders and 71 sponsors.

Tom Pickens gains a few grudging yards against stubborn Livingston State Tigers in Homecoming game Saturday. Vols squeaked by 9 to 7.

Rifle Team Loses Tilt With Murray

The newly formed varsity rifle team of The University of Tennessee Martin Branch met Murray State College in the first match of the 1963 school year.

Murray defeated UTMB by 87 points.

UTMB firers scored 1283 out of a possible 1500 while Murray State scored a 1370 out of a possible 1500.

Top men firers for Martin were Grafton Dodd of Parsons and Hugh Deck of Nashville, with 271 points each.

For the first time coeds fired for Martin in intercollegiate competition. The high scorer in the female group was Patty Ann McAlpin, Trezevant, with 223 points.

There has been much response to the idea of the varsity rifle team which is showing by the fact that about forty people have tried out for the team. Major Killen stated that he was expecting a good team, but that the teams to be fired against will be hard to beat. Since this is the first year for this type of team the main idea is to build for the future.

Phillip's 66'ers To Play Vols In Cage Game Here January 4

Phillips 66'ers, a brand new face to UTMB basketball enthusiasts, will come to Martin January 4 with a long line of reputable records behind them.

The 66ers, a National AAU industrial team currently holding the title of N-AAU champions, have had a total of 11 such titles to their credit since they won their first National AAU championship in 1940.

They since have won in seasons dating from 1943 through 1948, and in 1950, 1955, 1962, and 1963. Present coach Bud Browning has led his teams to seven of the championships, including an unmatched five in a row (1944-48).

Phillips teams, in 36 seasons, have won 1,343 games while losing only 228. In addition to their 11 championships, the 66ers also won the 1948 and 1956 Olympic Trials. Browning (1948) and Gerald Tucker (1956) were coaches of the all-victorious U. S. Olympic teams.

Phillips had a 40-3 record last year. Only losses were two to the Akron Goodyears and one to Tulsa University. The final loss came when the bulk of the 66ers were in the Philippines for the Islands' Invitational Tournament.

Browning has eight veterans on his 11-man squad for 1963-64, including three AAU All-Americans; Jerry Shipp, Jim Hagan, and Denny Price. He has seven players standing 6-4 or over. One of these boys stretches 6-9 and another 6-10.
